Katie Hall Hursh

Katie Hall Hursh, LLB, is a seasoned business leader who specializes in providing strategic and legal guidance. She has a strong background in corporate governance and business development. In her current role as Vice President, Katie is a member of the executive team for The McGill-Stephenson Company Limited, overseeing portfolio growth for its group of companies, which range from large-scale real estate development to healthcare to automotive sales.

Katie is an advisor to Flora Fertility, a direct-to-consumer insurance solution start-up for fertility and women's health, and a limited partner of the Women's Equity Lab (Manitoba), a women-led investment fund focusing on providing funding to early stage businesses.

She also serves as vice-chair for the Balmoral Hall School Foundation and as a member of the board of directors for Health Sciences Centre Foundation, which helps drive the innovative delivery of healthcare at Manitoba's largest hospital. Through this involvement, Katie recently chaired a successful fundraising campaign in support of improved emergency gynecological care at Winnipeg's Women's Hospital.

Katie is an experienced public speaker and has been interviewed frequently by media outlets through her professional and volunteer roles. As a mom to three young children, Katie is deeply committed to supporting causes and business initiatives that seek to improve our future
